N. E.W. F. R. E. N. C.H. PUBLICATION.—PROFESSORS

Richard & Monton have just issued the first number of a French literary paper—in French and English—whose design is to impart to Americans a knowledge of the French lauguage in a pleasant, easy manner, without compelling any neglect of business. The pronunciation of the French text is printed under each word of the lesson tables. These wishing to become subscribers may call at their office, 685 Broadway.

MEN OF CHARACTER, BY DOUGLAS JERROLD.—In Jerbold, anther of "Titus Trumps," "Isaac Cheek," "Man Made of Money," &c. &c.—Nething can equal the buoyant, unctuous, and overflewing humor which characterizes the shetches of "Men of Character," from the pen of the great English humorist, Denglas Jerrold. The ordest and most laugh-provoking characters are grouped together, and comic situations follow each other rapidly, and are so irresistibly funny, odd and laughable, that the most cynical are betrayed into merriment. There is no resisting Jerrold's humor. It takes you by storm; and when once you have commenced the perusal of his pages, you follow him with delight, as line after line unfolds his quaint thoughts, and the rich adventures, plights and prodicaments of his herees, "Job Pippins, the Man who could not Help it," is one of the best of the series of "Men of Character," and all who have read the preceding numbers of "Titus Trumps," and "Isaac Cheeks," will knew how to value the appearance of a third of the series. Price 125, cents, HUNCE & BROTHERS, publishers, 123 Assau street, directly opposite Clinton Hall, Just published, a new edition of "Isaac Cheek, the Man of Many Hopes," price Cl. cents.

THE HON. MOSES H. GRINNELL AND DR. KELlinger.—This is too good to keep.—Some five years since, one afternoon going up the Horison river in the steamer Armenia, Dr. Kellinger had made a statement of a cure that be had made upon one of Mr. Junes Murphy's men.
Mr. Grinnell happened to be in hearing, and signified, in his nexal smilling and sgreable manner, that the story was a little colored, or rather seemed to doubt it. The very next morning, the honorable gentleman was coming to the steambout landing, and an accident happened, and himself, sor, and conchusan were thrown upon the ground. Mr. G and son were scarcely scratched, but the conchusan feupon his face, receiving a meat awfel braine. Hocourred old Thursday morning, and the next day the man received Mr.
G, at the landing without a mark to be seen. From that tothe present time, he says that he has never been without it in his family. The only danger in using this wonderful remedy is in the first bettlee-you become so much attached and delighted that you cannot de without it in your family. It
